In addition, there will be team meetings scheduled regularly as those dates will be set once the team is selected and personal schedules are worked out.

Share these dates with your family and employer. Add these dates to your personal/family/work/school calendars. If you are having numerous conflicts with scheduled MD FFA events and those already on your personal schedule and which will not allow you to attend or fully participate (virtually and/or in-person) in these Maryland FFA Association events, you need to seriously reconsider your plans to serve as a Maryland FFA State Officer this year.
